JULIO COVARRUBIAS SPEAKS AT TEDXUOFW 2018-2019

Submitted by Britta M. Anson on May 3, 2019 - 10:50am

The event took place in Kane Hall, Walker Ames Room from 9:30am-3:30pm. The event was sold out, but was broadcast via live stream and recorded -- you can now view Julio's presentation online.

TEDx is a program of local, self-organized events "in the spirit of ideas worth spreading," modeled after, and guided by, the annual TED Conference. The student-run TEDxUofW was established in 2012 and provides an annual gathering of "great creative thinkers, scientific minds, community leaders, and much more."

Great job, Julio!

People Involved: Julio Covarrubias
News Category: Graduate Students, Lectures and Events

Source URL: https://phil.washington.edu/news/2019/05/03/julio-covarrubias-speaks-tedxuofw-2018-2019